

APPROPRIATE

BY BRANDEN JACOBS-JENKINS

DIRECTED BY LILA NEUGEBAUER

OPENED TO RAVE REVIEWS AT THE HAYES THEATER DECEMBER 18, 2023
NOW HEADED TO THE BELASCO THEATRE, BEGINNING PERFORMANCES MARCH 25

“A brilliant, blistering, outrageous play with a wicked tongue.”

– The New York Times

Pulitzer Prize finalist and Obie Award winner Branden Jacobs-Jenkins and Drama Desk Award winner Lila Neugebauer invite you to one helluva reunion in this darkly comic American family drama, starring Emmy and Golden Globe Award winner Sarah Paulson, who leads “one of the best casts on Broadway!” (Deadline)

It's summer, the cicadas are singing, and the Lafayette family has returned to their late patriarch's Arkansas home to deal with the remains of his estate. Toni, the eldest daughter, hopes they'll spend the weekend remembering and reconnecting over their beloved father. Bo, her brother, wants to recoup some of the funds he spent caring for Dad at the end of his life. But things take a turn when their estranged brother appears late one night, and mysterious objects are discovered among the clutter. Suddenly, long-hidden secrets and buried resentments can't be contained, and the family is forced to face the ghosts of their past.

“Sarah Paulson is monumental.
A searing and thrilling family dramedy.”

– Entertainment Weekly

BELASCO THEATRE
111 WEST 44TH STREET | NEW YORK, NY 10036

Groups 10+

Previews begin March 25, 2024

Opening Night April 10, 2024

Recommended for ages 12+

Running Time: 2 hours, 30 minutes, including intermission

Limited Engagement through June 23, 2024

Note: The production uses loud sound effects and strobe or flashing lights.

GreatWhiteWay.com

(212) 757-9117 | (888) 517-0112